MONTEPILIER

Funeral of John L. Tuttle Was Held Sunday Afternoon.

Funeral services for John L. Tuttle, first chief of police of Montpelier, and long time deputy sheriff, who died in Denver, Col., a week ago to-day, were held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Church of the Messiah, Rev. Lewis C. Carson officiating. The services, which were in charge of the local lodge of Masons, were largely attended, the police and sheriff departments being well represented, the Washington County Deputy Sheriffs' association attending in a body. The remains were accompanied to Montpelier by the two sons, Edgar Tuttle of Denver and Probate Judge Frank Tuttle of Vergennes. The body was placed in the vault at Green Mount cemetery, where burial will be made later.

A slight blaze which originated, it is thought among some waste paper in a room on the top floor, called the fire department to the Parochial school on Sunday, three minutes after the noon hour, a bell alarm being sounded from Box 20. The department made one of the longest runs on record and Rev. P. J. Long, pastor of St. Augustine's church, expressed himself as being greatly surprised and pleased at the excellent time made. Two extinguishers were used by the firemen in putting out the blaze which slightly damaged one side of the room. The damage was very small. In response to the alarm, one of the horses of the department cut his ankle severely, necessitating the attention of Dr. E. C. Barrett. Fifteen gallons of chemical fluid were used by the department in putting out a chimney fire in the Argus & Patriot building shortly before noon yesterday, a telephone call summoning the firemen to the building. There was no damage.

Barre Hebrews, in common with others of their race, began Saturday evening at sundown the celebration of the feast of Purim, one of the important festivals commemorating the biblical story of how Esther saved the Jewish people from destruction. The feast is celebrated in the happiest spirit and in many communities there are social festivities and carnival masquerades. The reading of the book of Esther from a parchment scroll constitutes the principal feature in the synagogue observance of the festival, in connection with which the faithful are enjoined to remember the poor. Much of the celebration is supposed to be feasting and rejoicing. As on other festivals and fast days in the Jewish calendar, Barre Hebrews who desire the services of the rabbi gravitate toward Burlington, where there is a synagogue.
